

Involving young people in research: Collaborative approaches

Presented by Valerie Dunn, Alysha Buttress, Fran Dunn, Sophie Allan and Tom Mellor

The workshop will cover practical aspects of involving young people in research from the perspective of the young people involved, the people supporting their involvement and the wider research team. The presenters will talk about the participatory research methods they used in their studies to involve young people most effectively in the various stages of the research process.

Date: 10th December 2015

Time: 10am-11.30am (Tea, coffee and biscuits will be served at 9.30am)

At: Meeting Room, Herchel Smith Building, Addenbrooke's

The workshop will be relevant to researchers, service users and carers and clinicians interested in collaborative research. Priority will be given to people linked with CPFT
