YOUR CHANCE TO INFORM HOSPICE AT HOME SERVICES

If you are a member of the public with experience of hospice at home services, perhaps as a carer or volunteer, we invite you to feedback on findings from the OPEL Study (Optimum Hospice at Home Services for End of Life Care), a research project being led by the University of Kent and other partners.

Register your interest to attend one of our two consensus events at:

<https://bit.ly/2nHfzSG>

Support for travel expenses will be provided.

This project will help produce guidelines for service providers in the future and to understand which Hospice at Home service types are likely to lead to the best services for local people and represent best value for money. More about the study:
